ITS DULL IN TRENTON

Business About the Potteries Is Not Brisk.

THEY HOPE FOR MORE TARIFF

A Few Plants Are Running But the Owners Are Not Getting Rich As Fast As If They Owned Gold Mines—A Novel Wish From An Importer.

While the potteries of Liverpool have been doing a good business since the selling price has been reduced to the English basis, stories have been coming from Trenton which say that but little ware is being made at that place, and they are borne out by the following extract from the Trenton letter in a pottery paper:

"The pottery business in this vicinity is at present decidedly dull and very few of the manufacturers report that they are at all busy. The general feeling among the manufacturing potters is by no means as encouraging as might be wished. While it is true that a few of the potteries are running on full time, complaints are numerous that the prices obtained for the productions are so low that there is little or no profit, and in many cases a positive loss in operating the plants. The opinion prevails among the manufacturers that in order to restore the business to its former state of prosperity, prompt remedial legislation on the tariff question will be necessary. Until this is obtained many believe that there will be no material improvement. A manufacturer, who is looked upon as a shrewd politician, said he believed the tariff question would come before the legislature this winter, and he believed a bill would be passed increasing the tariff on crockery."

Another interesting bit of pottery news comes from the New York correspondent of the same paper. Since he lives and moves in an atmosphere through which the word of the importer moves with the force of command, the story is to say the least novel:

"There is more than one solid trader in the district who avers that there will not be any change for the better, that is to say, a marked improvement upon the present condition of the trade until the new president has been chosen. I found a feeling in favor of a high tariff, too, in a quarter where such a sentiment would hardly be expected, namely, a large importing house, and the trader argued thusly: 'I prefer a high tariff to a low one; that is to say that I would sooner pay 80 per cent on my goods than 40 or 45 per cent.' He said 'why? Because the American manufacturer could then start up his factories, give his men employment at good wages, which means more money in circulation and more buyers for goods of all kinds. We never have been afraid of American competition in the higher grades of glassware, and we would be able to get just as good prices for our ware then as we do now.'"

SOME WEDDINGS.

An East End Man Goes to Carroll County For a Bride.

Frank White, a well known kilnman residing in the East End, was married on Thursday afternoon to Miss Mattie Smith, an estimable young lady of Carroll county. The wedding took place at the residence of the bride's parents, Reverend Eaton, of Carrollton, performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. White returned to East End yesterday afternoon, and a wedding feast followed, 30 guests being present. Mr. White is a member of the Second U. P. church, and a high official in the district organization of Young People's societies. The couple will reside in East End.

Charles Applegate, of this city, and Miss Rena Rosenbaum, of near Wellsville, were married at Wellsville by Reverend Selby. The happy young people will live in this city.

CLOSED A SALOON.

Deputy Moffat Makes Short Work of a Business.

Deputy Moffat was here from Lisbon today, and closed the saloon of Herman Festel on Second street. The keys were handed over to Chief Gill, who will keep an eye on the place. The proprietor of the place neglected to pay his Dow tax, and the authorities took the action. The saloon business has not been as good as usual these past few months, and some saloonists have been in more or less financial trouble.

MORE BOATS GO OUT.

The River is Filled With Floating Craft.

Boats continue to pass down the river in great numbers, and a few go up. The Keystone, the first Cincinnati packet, went up yesterday doing a good business along the river. Coal continues to pass and acres of tows have gone down the past few days. There have been a few accidents, but none that were very costly, and the coal men think themselves fortunate. A number of boats have been compelled to tie up because of the fog, but the fleet is making good time on its journey.

VERY MUCH BETTER.

Little James Hill Will Likely Get Well.

James Hill, the boy who was shot by Harry Allison last Sunday, is getting better every day, and his friends now think he will recover. The lad suffered terribly from the bullet in his head, but now he is better, in spite of the fact that the bullet is in the old place and has not yet been extracted. Hill has recovered so far that it is easily seen he is fast gaining strength. Young Allison, who did the shooting, has spent a week of worry and watchfulness, but now that Hill is better he once more feels easy, although still sorry that he fired the shot.

ANOTHER SLIDE.

More Dirt Fell on the Street Railway Track.

The rough luck experienced by the street railway company continues. Another heavy fall of dirt occurred near Walker this morning at 4 o'clock. The stuff came down in an avalanche, and passengers were transferred in the mud until after 10 o'clock. A small fall occurred last evening, but it was quickly cleared away. Secretary Davies was here from Cleveland looking over the ground, but had nothing to say for publication. The blockade of the road caused a great deal of annoyance to passengers, but there were no accidents.

DWINDLING AWAY.

The Ranks of the Veterans Have Many Gaps.

A compilation of returns made by the assessors has been completed in the adjutant general's office at Columbus, and the result shows 87,221 living veterans in Ohio, of whom 38,464 are members of the Grand Army. Columbus county has 1,329 of these, 692 of whom are connected with Grand Army posts. The report is the result of a law passed two years ago which compelled the assessors last spring to make returns of all old soldiers within the boundaries of their territory and report to the auditor of the county.

RECEIVED WITH GRATITUDE.

The Market Street Home Glad to Get Money.

The Woman's Christian Temperance union desire to express thanks to the ministers of the city and the public for the Thanksgiving service collection which was donated for the Market street home. The amount was $20, and it will be very useful to the management of the institution. The home is getting along very well, and has as much patronage as it could well have. The price of boarding, however, is so low that the ladies always receive donations with thanks, and hope the people will not forget them.

NO DEATHS.

Undertakers Wonder What Will Become of Them.

It is possible that the number of deaths when counted at the end of the year will show the best report East Liverpool has known in many years. "I never remember a time when the town was as healthy," said an undertaker today, "and I don't know but what my books will show a marked decrease in my business for the year. It has been a long time since any one died in town, and if we depended entirely on the undertaking business in Liverpool for a living we wouldn't stand it very long."

BOUND TO COURT.

Arthur Will Be Sentenced By Judge Young.

William Arthur, the East End man who was in jail yesterday charged with stealing money from the butcher shop of Ben Hayes, was arraigned late in the afternoon. He had all the evidence against him, and realizing that he could make no defense whatever, he decided that he was guilty. Mayor Gilbert bound him to the court of Judge Young, where he will be sentenced. Arthur has always been a good reputation among people who knew him, and his bad break is deplored by his friends.

Coming This Way.

Mayor Gilbert this morning received a telegram from Pittsburgh stating that a boat had been stolen from Herr's island last night, and the police had reason to believe that the thief was heading for Liverpool. The boat is blue, and had painted on it the letters E. J. C.

ALL OPEN NEXT MONTH

The Clerks Will Work During the Evening.

THEY DECIDED UNANIMOUSLY

Trade Demanded the Movement and the Organization Would Not Injure the Business of Their Employers—The Old Order Will Start Again Jan. 1.

Every business house in the city will be open for trade during the evening of every work day in December.

The clerks held a meeting last evening and the question was decided for this year setting a precedent for years to come. The matter has caused more or less discussion during the past few days, but the opinion was general from the start that every clerk in the union would vote for work during the nights of December. Business men as a rule thought this was the right course to adopt since the holiday trade will start with next week, and it will be impossible to keep pace with custom by having the stores open only during the day. There was no restriction placed on the number of hours the clerks are to be employed during the month, and every store can keep open as long as the proprietor desires and trade justifies. At the beginning of the year the old order will be resumed, and the stores will all close at 6 o'clock. The decision meets with general favor and the clerks are being complimented for the side they took.

DROPPED DEAD.

Mrs. Annie Foster Died While Beating a Carpet.

Mrs. Annie Foster, aged 65 years, dropped dead at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Daniel Pollock, at 11 o'clock this morning. She was engaged in beating a carpet when she suddenly stopped, and after saying that she was very sick sank to the ground. Members of the family hastened to the stricken woman, but she was dead in a few minutes.

Mrs. Foster has been a resident of this city for many years, and had a large number of friends. She resided on Fourth street, but spent much of her time with her daughters, Mrs. Pollock, Mrs. Patterson Grafton and Mrs. Jefferson Morley. She was a consistent Christian, and her sudden death is the cause of much regret. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

BOOMING JUDGE YOUNG.

Lisbon Attorneys Will Go to the State Capital.

The fight for the common pleas judgeship is getting warm and several Lisbon attorneys will go to Columbus to see Governor McKinley on Monday. They expect to see the appointment made before the middle of the week. P. M. Smith's friends are also active, and expect to see him land an easy winner, since the majority of the attorneys of the county and the greater part of the business men have endorsed him. It is understood that the friends of Judge Young agreed to let the place go to the one having the strongest support.

Judge Billingsley was in town a short time this morning, but declared that this was not a political mission. He was here on legal business, and that alone. The gentleman had nothing to say about the judgeship, or who would fill his position when the governor accepted his resignation.

YOUNG LOAFERS.

Chief Gill Has Given Them Fair Warning.

The crowd of young loafers who are in the habit of assembling about the Grand Opera House entrance on occasions when plays are on, and indulging in foul, profane and filthy conversation, much to the annoyance of lady patrons, are warned by Chief Gill that they must cease such conduct at once, or arrests and punishment will follow. Further, the chief states that the lining up of crowds of men on the curb, at the close of the performance, making it difficult for ladies and their escorts to pass through, must be broken up at once. This order means business, and offenders will do well to make note.

NO ADMISSION.

The Elks' Memorial Services Are Free to the Public.

The memorial services to be conducted by the Elks in the Grand tomorrow afternoon are free, and no admission fee will be charged. The services will begin at 2:30 o'clock, and the principal event of the afternoon will be the address of Hon. Martin Foran, of Cleveland. The meeting last year was largely attended, and will doubtless be tomorrow afternoon since the musical portion of the program is an attractive feature. Every member of the lodge who can attend will be present.

DR. HUSTON SPEAKS.

He Rattled the Dry Bones Effectually Last Night.

Doctor Huston, pastor of the First M. E. church, made statements from the pulpit last night which have the ring of true metal, and which will show offenders that the social purity question is here to stay and the enforcement of the law must and shall be an assured fact. He stated that blackmail is used here just as surely as in the slums of New York; that he has been threatened that, in case he does not cease attacking evil and evil practices from the pulpit, evils which the parties claimed he had no right to mention from the sacred desk, he, the pastor, would not be supported by subscriptions for the objectors. The reverend gentlemen flung defiance in the teeth of all such persons, and asserted that he was here to preach the truth, as God gave him to see the truth, no matter whom it hit or hurt. He stated that there is also a bright side to the question, as, when he had preached straight against existing evil, and hit society sins hardest, he came down out of the pulpit expecting condemnation from some good, strong men and true women, when what was his delight to have these same persons grasp him cordially by the hand and tell him they were with him, heart, soul and pocketbook—with him all the way through for the right, and that his sermon did them infinite good. Turn on the light.

KILLED AT LEETONIA.

Harry Shauck and Peter March Struck by a Train.

Harry Shauck and Peter March, of Lisbon, were struck by a Fort Wayne train while driving near Leetonia yesterday afternoon, and both are now dead. March died within a few minutes after the accident happened, and Shauck gave up the battle this morning. Both were mangled and torn by the accident, but it was thought last night that Shauck would recover. Shauck is a relative of John Wyman, of this city. The bodies were taken to Lisbon today, and will be interred in the cemetery there.

TOO MUCH MUD.

Bethany Did Not Play Foot Ball Here Today.

The mud in West End park was so deep this afternoon that there was no game, but the Bethany team will be here some day next week.

Manager Smith has a letter from the manager of the Allegheny team asking another game this season. He acknowledged the grit and ability of the Eclipse, and apologized for the roughness of his club.

The Youngstown club did not arrive for the game with the Rovers, today until late this afternoon and the game is on.

Home From a Meeting.

A. W. Ferran returned last night from Steubenville, where he had been in attendance upon the second convention of the second sub-district of the Epworth league. Mr. Ferran is president of the Steubenville district. He reports a splendid meeting, with enthusiasm running high and the evident accomplishment of much good. Presiding Elder Stewart, of the Methodist Episcopal church, came up on the train with Mr. Ferran, and he finds splendid work among the Epworth leaguers of the district.

Three Chester Items.

Mrs. Joseph Metz, of Chester, is very ill at her home, and it is feared she cannot recover.

Mrs. Nannie Morrow, of Morgantown, delivered an interesting lecture to a large audience in Chester last evening. There were some Liverpool people present.

The concert at Hookstown was not largely attended from here last evening, although a number had decided to go. The miserable weather kept them away.

Two Accidents.

William Rigby, a decorator living in Starkey Lane, fell on the street and dislocated his knee.

John Wucherer has a sore hand. Recently it was cut and now it is healing causing him a vast amount of pain.

Went Through the Floor.

While a carriage was being lowered at Frank Dickey's stable last night the wire holding the weight broke, and the heavy piece of iron crashed through the floor, breaking a joist and sinking into the earth several inches.

Few Drunks.

There has been a noticeable scarcity of drunks at city hall during the week and the police have had little to do in making arrests.

OLD IN THE SERVICE

A Bible That Has Seen Over Two Centuries.

IT IS VERY WELL PRESERVED

An Interesting Relic Owned in the City. It Has Been Here Many Years—Old Copies of Newspapers and an Ancient Letter Owned by a Liverpool Lady.

What is perhaps the oldest book in the county is owned in this city, a Bible which has seen continuous service for over 200 years, but retains enough of its original shape to be easily recognized as a book.

The valuable book is the property of Mrs. Angie Dean, a resident who is well known in the city, having been a resident of Liverpool for many years. She received it from her father, the late Henry Simms, who lived in Beaver, but spent much of his time in this city. He had many friends here, and it was while visiting in town that he died, but his body was taken to Beaver for burial. He will be remembered by some of those friends who are still alive as having many old documents, and among them were the valuables which Mrs. Deane now has in her possession.

The Bible in question was printed in 1689, and was considered a fine book in those days. It was elaborately bound with a heavy cover, but time has long since shown its ability to destroy anything like beauty in a binding; but the rough boards which now hold the leaves in position formed the foundation for the back of the book when it was first put upon the market.

The pages, once clear and white, have long since turned to saffron, and the edges have been so worn by time that they are frayed and torn. The ink used in printing the book, however, was decidedly good, and the letters show as distinctly today as at any time since the pages came from the primitive press on which it was printed. The chapters are numbered as in an ordinary Bible, and the verses appear in the same way. At the top of each page is a sentence which covers as far as possible the matter in the verses below. The places at which the Bible is most worn indicate the favorite passages of the people who have owned it during all the years it has been in existence. These are scattered throughout the book, but at other points it seems much better preserved. At one time the binding was blue, but the years have so faded out the color that it can be noticed, and that is all. The letter "s" does not find a place in the text, for in those days they used "r" when they indicated that character. The marginal notes are much the same as in ordinary Bibles, the exception being in the number, there not being as many as in modern editions. The passages of scripture that have been used more than the others are indicated by the deeper color of the leaves. There is no doubt about the extreme age of the book, since its history can be traced for many years, and is well known to the owner. Even without that it would be easy to tell that the book is very old.

The letter which Mrs. Deane has was written in August of 1824 in Philadelphia, on rough, hard paper and was never in an envelope. That was before the days of envelopes, and the imprint and a portion of the seal on the back of the document can easily be seen. The writing is in that old style, but after 71 years is as easily read as the day it was written. Another curiosity is a copy of "Patterson's Magazine Almanac for 1821, being the first after leap year from the Fourth of July the forty-sixth of American Independence." In addition to the usual matter found in an almanac this one contains a history of almanacs and a great many notes that are of interest to women. An article on the religion of the Indians, an essay on taxation, a number of interesting anecdotes, and the roads from Pittsburgh to Washington are given. The courts of Pennsylvania are discussed at length, and a few suggestions are given young people for their guidance in life, while a short poem or two and a lot of miscellaneous matter make up the remainder of the book.

Mrs. Deane also has some old copies of Beaver county papers, the Republican, a small paper published at Beaver in 1828, being among the number. The leading article is "A Perfect History of the Conduct of General Jackson From First to Last as Related to the Arrest, Trial and Punishment of Mutineers and Deserters During the Late War." It also contains the national ticket, Jackson for president and Calhoun for vice president. The other copy of the Republican owned by Mrs. Deane contains an account of the inauguration of President Jackson.

DR. HUSTON SPEAKS.

He Rattled the Dry Bones Effectually Last Night.

Doctor Huston, pastor of the First M. E. church, made statements from the pulpit last night which have the ring of true metal, and which will show offenders that the social purity question is here to stay and the enforcement of the law must and shall be an assured fact. He stated that blackmail is used here just as surely as in the slums of New York; that he has been threatened that, in case he does not cease attacking evil and evil practices from the pulpit, evils which the parties claimed he had no right to mention from the sacred desk, he, the pastor, would not be supported by subscriptions for the objectors. The reverend gentlemen lunged defiance in the teeth of all such persons, and asserted that he was here to preach the truth, as God gave him to see the truth, no matter whom it hit or hurt. He stated that there is also a bright side to the question, as, when he had preached straight against existing evil, and hit society sins hardest, he came down out of the pulpit expecting condemnation from some good, strong men and true women, when what was his delight to have these same persons grasp him cordially by the hand and tell him they were with him, heart, soul and pocketbook—with him all the way through for the right, and that his sermon did them infinite good. Turn on the light.

KILLED AT LEETONIA.

Harry Shauk and Peter March Struck by a Train.

Harry Shauk and Peter March, of Lisbon, were struck by a Fort Wayne train while driving near Leetonia yesterday afternoon, and both are now dead. March died within a few minutes after the accident happened, and Shauk gave up the battle this morning. Both were mangled and torn by the accident, but it was thought last night that Shauk would recover. Shauk is a relative of John Wyman, of this city. The bodies were taken to Lisbon today, and will be interred in the cemetery there.

TOO MUCH MUD.

Bethany Did Not Play Foot Ball Here Today.

The mud in West End park was so deep this afternoon that there was no game, but the Bethany team will be here some day next week.

Manager Smith has a letter from the manager of the Allegheny team asking another game this season. He acknowledged the grit and ability of the Eclipse, and apologized for the roughness of his club.

The Youngstown club did not arrive for the game with the Rovers, today until late this afternoon and the game is on.

Home From a Meeting.

A. W. Ferran returned last night from Steubenville, where he had been in attendance upon the second convention of the second sub-district of the Epworth league. Mr. Ferran is president of the Steubenville district. He reports a splendid meeting, with enthusiasm running high and the evident accomplishment of much good. Presiding Elder Stewart, of the Methodist Episcopal church, came up on the train with Mr. Ferran, and he finds splendid work among the Epworth leaguers of the district.

Three Chester Items.

Mrs. Joseph Metz, of Chester, is very ill at her home, and it is feared she cannot recover.

Mrs. Nannie Morrow, of Morgantown, delivered an interesting lecture to a large audience in Chester last evening. There were some Liverpool people present.

Two Accidents.

William Rigby, a decorator living in Starkey Lane, fell on the street and dislocated his knee.

John Wucherer has a sore hand. Recently it was cut and now it is healing causing him a vast amount of pain.

Went Through the Floor.

While a carriage was being lowered at Frank Dickey's stable last night the wire holding the weight broke, and the heavy piece of iron crashed through the floor, breaking a joist and sinking into the earth several inches.

Few Drunks.

There has been a noticeable scarcity of drunks at city hall during the week and the police have had little to do in making arrests.

OLD IN THE SERVICE

A Bible That Has Seen Over Two Centuries.

IT IS VERY WELL PRESERVED

What is perhaps the oldest book in the county is owned in this city, a Bible which has seen continuous service for over 200 years, but retains enough of its original shape to be easily recognized as a book.

The valuable book is the property of Mrs. Angle Dean, a resident who is well known in the city, having been a resident of Liverpool for many years. She received it from her father, the late Henry Simms, who lived in Beaver, but spent much of his time in this city. He had many friends here, and it was while visiting in town that he died, but his body was taken to Beaver for burial. He will be remembered by some of those friends who are still alive as having many old documents, and among them were the valuables which Mrs. Deane now has in her possession.

The Bible in question was printed in 1689, and was considered a fine book in those days. It was elaborately bound with a heavy cover, but time has long since shown its ability to destroy anything like beauty in a binding; but the rough boards which now hold the leaves in position formed the foundation for the back of the book when it was first put upon the market. The pages, once clear and white, have long since turned to saffron, and the edges have been so worn by time that they are frayed and torn. The ink used in printing the book, however, was decidedly good, and the letters show as distinctly today as at any time since the pages came from the primitive press on which it was printed. The chapters are numbered as in an ordinary Bible, and the verses appear in the same way. At the top of each page is a sentence which covers as far as possible the matter in the verses below. The places at which the Bible is most worn indicate the favorite passages of the people who have owned it during all the years it has been in existence. These are scattered throughout the book, but at other points it seems much better preserved. At one time the binding was blue, but the years have so faded out the color that it can be noticed, and that is all. The letter "s" does not find a place in the text, for in those days they used "f" when they indicated that character. The marginal notes are much the same as in ordinary Bibles, the exception being in the number, there not being as many as in modern editions. The passages of scripture that have been used more than the others are indicated by the deeper color of the leaves. There is no doubt about the extreme age of the book, since its history can be traced for many years, and is well known to the owner. Even without that it would be easy to tell that the book is very old.

The letter which Mrs. Deane has was written in August of 1824 in Philadelphia, on rough, hard paper and was never in an envelope. That was before the days of envelopes, and the imprint and a portion of the seal on the back of the document can easily be seen. The writing is in that old style, but after 71 years is as easily read as the day it was written. Another curiosity is a copy of "Patterson's Magazine Almanac for 1821, being the first after leap year from the Fourth of July the forty-sixth of American Independence." In addition to the usual matter found in an almanac this one contains a history of almanacs and a great many notes that are of interest to women. An article on the religion of the Indians, an essay on taxation, a number of interesting anecdotes, and the roads from Pittsburgh to Washington are given. The courts of Pennsylvania are discussed at length, and a few suggestions are given young people for their guidance in life, while a short poem or two and a lot of miscellaneous matter make up the remainder of the book.

Mrs. Deane also has some old copies of Beaver county papers, the Republican, a small paper published at Beaver in 1828, being among the number. The leading article is "A Perfect History of the Conduct of General Jackson From First to Last as Relates to the Arrest, Trial and Punishment of Mutineers and Deserters During the Late War." It also contains the national ticket, Jackson for president and Calhoun for vice president. The other copy of the Republican owned by Mrs. Deane contains an account of the inauguration of President Jackson,

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, NOV. 30.

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Of Ohio.

MR. CLEVELAND will tell congress all about it on Monday, and then congress will begin to show Mr. Cleveland how little he really does know.

W. S. ANDERSON, the noted criminal attorney of Youngstown, is announced as a candidate as delegate to the big Republican convention next year. That is an honor which should fall to East Liverpool.

THE Hon. Mr. Bland, who once had a seat in congress, was advertised to lecture on free silver in Savannah the other evening, but only one sent was sold and the thing was called off; and thus does the senseless advocacy of the silver standard wither and die.

SENATOR PFEFFER has never shown himself as owning a vast deal of common sense in the past, but he threatens to retrieve himself in a measure by introducing a bill in congress compelling the members who die while at Washington to pay their own funeral expenses.

THEY say that the leaders of the Republican party are for Reed but the masses of the people are for McKinley, which means that it would not be a wise thing for the convention to nominate Mr. Reed. A cardinal principle of Republicanism is that the people's voice should rule.

A NEW POLICY.

Those friends of President Cleveland who sympathize with his weak water policy of allowing the American flag to be treated worse than a housewife's dishrag by the nations of Europe, and can find no better consolation in life than styling patriots as liars, will soon be retired to private life, with their chief, and the stars and stripes will again be recognized as possessing a power of its own.

The foreign policy of the administration has aroused a deep feeling of resentment toward President Cleveland, and since he can give no satisfactory explanation of his conduct, the nation will have nothing more to do with him. The republic once held a place among the nations of the earth, once commanded a respect which could not be gained. To be an American in a foreign land was to be guarded and protected; but it is not so at present. Mr. Bayard has been kind enough to tell the people of England that we are a well meaning people, but rather simple, and Mr. Terrell is allowing the Turks to do as they please with Americans and American property, while he apparently pats them on the back. That Hawaiian incident has not yet faded from the memory of the world, and the manner in which England has been acting in the Venezuelan and Baring sea matters are fresh in memory. These things are not calculated to enforce American respect, nor will the millions of dollars vested in battleships ever bring any return until they are backed by a forcible foreign policy that will show the honesty, as well as the earnestness of Uncle Sam. If Mr. Cleveland's past is a criterion of the future, he is incapable of protecting Americans and American interests abroad.

The great majority of men and women, of even very much more than ordinary intelligence, pay no attention whatsoever to the well established rules governing the preservation of health. Simple symptoms of indigestion or slight disarrangements of the stomach or system are treated by them as trivial happenings, having no weight or bearing upon their general health. In this seeming neglect or too much over confidence in their own robustness lies the greatest mistake of their lives, as it is invariably from these little ailments giant chronic diseases spring. To guard fully against such evils, use Libby's Phosphatic Beef, Iron and Wine; the only true tonic to the stomach system, system and nerves, perfect strength and tissue producer, and new rich blood matter. Go or send for it to Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist, Sixth and West Market.

CONGRESS TOO STINGY

Lamont Tells Why Our Coasts Are Undefended.

70 YEARS TO COMPLETE THE WORK

Will Be Necessary If Appropriations Are Made In The Future As In The Past. 100,000 State Militia Available—Recommendations In His Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The secretary of war, in his annual report to the president, says the expenditures for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1895, were $2,987,780.44; appropriations for fiscal year ending June 30, 1896, $43,406,571.75; estimates for fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, $51,945,643.45. The year has been tranquil and undisturbed by Indian outbreaks, domestic violence or troubles on the border. The total of all enlisted men is 25,706. A considerable reduction in congress of the estimates of the pay department left the paymaster general without sufficient funds to meet the army payroll for the last month of the year. An unofficial arrangement was made under which the necessary amount was advanced to meet these accounts in full, the secretary of war having assumed the personal responsibility of guaranteeing their payment. A deficiency appropriation of $34,000, or so much as may be necessary to extinguish the debt, is recommended.

The secretary says that by far the most essential need of our army today is the adoption of the three-battalion formation. The reasons for this change and a way to provide it were stated in the report of the department for 1894. As necessary to effect that change, he recommends the removal of the limit of 25,000 men fixed by the act of June 18, 1874, and a return to the limit fixed by the act of July 15, 1870. Legislative approval of these two propositions will restore to the effective force about 4,000 enlisted men, bringing the actual strength of the army up to the nominal strength now fixed by law. By these changes the army will be increased in efficiency 20 per cent, in numbers about 16 1/2 per cent, and in cost of maintenance only about 6 per cent, or an increase in actual appropriation of $1,111,000.00. The policy of concentrating the army at a few unnecessary posts has not only won the approval of all those acquainted with the lines of progress which conditions have marked out for our army, but is approved by all thoughtful citizens. This policy has also rendered it possible for this department since March 4, 1893, to turn over to the department of the interior 741,000 acres of public land, conventionally situated, for the use of actual settlers.

The efforts of recent years to bring the army into closer relations with the national guard of the states may now be regarded as having established a permanent union between the two forces, and advantageous to both. During the year 1895, 6,000 more than in the previous year, were permanently detailed at state headquarters, and 43 states secured for temporary duty the services of army officers. State encampments of troops were held by 2 states, to which 25 additional officers were assigned as instructors and inspectors. The conditions are favorable to the development of a volunteer force of upward of 100,000 men, of the highest efficiency and prepared for any service. The secretary says the militia should be supplied with modern arms and more money should be appropriated by the government. The secretary says the military schools are increasing the interest of the youth in military affairs and says army officers should be detailed to city high schools and state normal schools.

Secretary Lamont says that the inadequacy and impotency of sea-coast defenses have been so evident that the intelligence of the country long since ceased to discuss that hampering phase of public land convention. The secretary says the military schools are increasing the interest of the youth in military affairs and says army officers should be detailed to city high schools and state normal schools.

That plan contemplated a system of fortifications at 27 ports to which Puget Sound was subsequently added, requiring 8 1/2 million and 824 mortars of modern construction, at a cost of $97,782,800. By an immediate appropriation at that time of $21,500,000 and an annual appropriation of $9,000,000 thereafter, as then recommended, the system of land defenses could have been completed in 1895.

The original plan contemplated an expenditure of $97,782,800 by the end of the present year. The actual expenditures for appropriations for permanent and temporary equipment have been but $10,631,000. The first appropriation for guns was made only seven years ago and the first appropriation for armaments was made only five years ago. The average annual appropriations for these two objects has been less than $1,500,000. The work has therefore been conducted at about one-seventh the rate proposed.

If future appropriations for the manufacture of guns, mortars and carriages be no larger than the average authorized for the purpose since 1888, it will require 22 years more to supply the armament of the 18 important ports for which complete projects are approved.

If the appropriations for the engineer work are to continue at the rate of the annual appropriations since 1890, it will require 70 years to complete the armament of the 18 important ports for which complete projects are approved. We have established and equipped a gun factory able to turn out yearly 35 guns of the types required, or enough to arm the 18 ports enumerated within ten years. It is complete except as to the provisions for finishing and assembling 16-inch guns, the expenditure of which is questioned. We have, moreover, a contract with a plan for the manufacture of guns, which in time will be able to meet any unusual demand that could not be supplied by the Watervliet gun factory. We have established a plant for the manufacture of gun carriages which, with the aid of private establishments, can supply the carriages required as rapidly as emplacements for guns and mortars are completed. But at only three of the 18 ports—namely, at San Francisco, New York, San Francisco and Boston.

By about July next the condition of the completed components of our new defenses will be as follows: Guns, 29 12-inch, 47 10-inch and 10 12-inch; carriages, 10 12-inch, 31 10-inch, 14 8-inch; emplacements, 3 12-inch, 16 10-inch, 5 8-inch; mortars, 86 12-inch; carriages, 86 12-inch; emplacements, 64 12-inch.

It rests with congress to determine by its appropriations the period which shall elapse before our coasts shall be put in a satisfactory condition of defense. The amount required for the 18 ports is about $82,000,000, and the entire work can be completed within ten years. The rate of progress will be slower in proportion as appropriations are kept below the amount which can be advantageously expended.

It is important that congress should early adopt and consistently pursue a fixed policy in regard to the marking of the battlefields of the civil war. If the plan of creating battlefields parks is to be impartially pursued on the scale adopted at Chickamauga and Gettysburg, it must embrace 50 places where important actions were fought, and will involve an expenditure of at least $20,000,000, with additional expenditures for maintenance that may reach $1,000,000 yearly.

The report of chief engineers to the war department exhibits in detail the condition of the various river and harbor improvements ordered by congress. The total expenditures for these purposes during the year ended June 30 last, exclusive of those made by Mississippi and Missouri river commissions, were $15,440,994.97, and the unexpended balance of unavailable appropriations on the 1st day of September last was $12,686,880.59.

The secretary recommends a new building in which to keep the records of all the departments. He also recommends an appropriation for a statue to General Grant in Washington.

The engineer of the train was seriously wounded, and railroad communication between the interior and Remedios is temporarily interrupted.

THE SITUATION DARK.

Sultan May Order Christians Massacred When

WARSHIPS PASS DARDANELLES.

He Is Badly Scared, But Under The Influence Of Bad Advisers—Still Refuses The Powers' Demand—Tewfik Pasha Fired From The Palace.

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—The following reliable letter from an American resident in Constantinople says:

"The position here is critical in the extreme. The Turks coming in from Asiatic Turkey, rushed with massacre and pillage, are telling of their deeds, and a lot of our bazars, with an accompanying slaughter, is possible at any moment.

"The sultan is fighting for his life, and is not yet convinced that he is going to be punished for his crimes. When the powers are ready to move on him he may order any act of revenge in the way of general massacre, in order to go down in a cloud of smoke and glory. The powers are acting in the greatest secrecy that he may not have time to do this. When the fleets are ready to come in, they will put themselves in communication with the port and demand the surrender of the sultan's person, and I think that the port will dethrone him. But it will be an anxious time until this is accomplished."

A Constantinople dispatch says: The British ambassador has the gunboat Dryad at the entrance to the Dardanelles ready to pass in, but the sultan, who is once more thoroughly under the influence of the palace party led by Izzet Bey, still declines to grant the firmans applied for by the representatives of Great Britain, Russia, Italy and Austria, for the passage of the extra guardships through the straits of the Dardanelles.

This is the more extraordinary, as on Tuesday last Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish minister for foreign affairs, personally assured Sir Philip Currie that the port had determined to grant immediately the permission required. The palace party has persuaded the sultan to go back on his word. These places Tewfik Pasha in an embarrassing position, and he has been driven from the palace by the angry sultan because he cannot persuade the powers to recall their request.

It is believed that the powers are preparing to escort the gunboats with battleships and they may bombard the Turkish forts.

When this occurs, it is believed that a massacre of Christians will follow on the part of the Mussulmen, who are being stirred up to this point by secret agents of the sultan.

FOURTEEN LIVES LOST.

A Slide Occurs In a Coal Pit In New York State.

CARNEGIE, N. Y., Nov. 30.—An accident, resulting in the loss of 13 or 14 lives, has occurred at the Tilly Foster mines. Foreman Patrick was descending into the pit to take the time of two gangs of laborers, numbering about 35 men, who were working at the bottom, when a vast weight of earth and rock slid with the force of an avalanche from the mouth of the pit to the bottom, a distance of 300 feet. The earth crashed over the men with tremendous force.

Out of one gang of 11 only five came out alive, and three of the men employed in another gang were taken out dead. Among those known to be dead are: Michael Gannon, foreman; Patrick H. Murtha, foreman; John Fagan, boarding house keeper; Thomas Dennis, James Smith, an Austrian, name unknown, known as No. 234.

An Austrian known as No. 394 received a fracture of the skull and will probably die. The names of the others killed are at present unknown. Several of the workmen were seriously injured. The work of rescue is going on. It is thought that all the others in the pit are Italians and Austrians.

Strange Reason For Suicide

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 30.—It has developed that Rufus S. Ochs, whose dead body was found in his room in the Midland hotel, committed suicide rather than announce to the world as his lawful wife his former housekeeper, who, it appears, he had secretly married. Suits was once a wealthy clothier in this city, and was formerly connected with the New York firm of A. T. Stewart & Co.

Judge Burke So Characterizes the Recent Suit Which He Won.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30.—Judge Stevenson Burke, who won the famous $500,000 Hocking Valley railroad suit in the New York court of appeals, in talking of the case, said:

"The outcome of that matter never troubled me for a moment. It was a blackmailing scheme. As late as last August I was approached with the proposition to consolidate the Toledo and Ohio Central railway and the Hocking Valley railroad. I was to be made president of the consolidated company. Would they have done that if they had had any confidence in their case? I declined. I believe that the Ohio case brought by the Central Trust company will be dismissed."

Lynch Says His Advocates Only Used Money In The South.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 30.—Hon. John R. Lynch, the Mississippi colored ex-congressman, in conversation with a gentleman of Washington C. H., O., said in reference to Senator Sherman's book:

"The only money that I know of being used in the south to draw state delegations to the support of any candidate for the Republican presidential nomination was that which was used in the interest of John Sherman's candidacy. Although I got none of it myself I know of money having been used in that direction."

Susie fled, leaving her lovers to settle their difficulty by themselves. Bell awoke first. Finding Durant still badly intoxicated, he picked up an iron bar and brained him. Bell was arrested.

The local newspaper war at Portsmouth has resulted in another personal encounter on the public streets. The principals were Editor Patterson of The Daily Times and John Schmitt, circulation manager of The Daily Blade. The editor had been attacking Schmitt editorially, and when they met on Second street Schmitt aimed the offensive. He succeeded in striking the editor, who now wears a black eye.

DUNN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

Business Not Improved and Prices Shrink From a Period of Inaction.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—R. G. Dunn & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, says: Business has not improved, though there is very little change, except in the shrinkage of prices, which a period of inaction naturally causes. After the extraordinary buying of the summer and early fall, a marked decrease was inevitable, and it is yet too early in most branches of business to judge how far the future was anticipated in purchases. Retail stocks are still reported full in nearly all branches, with delayed distribution in many on account of unfavorable weather. The movement of crops is only fair, both cotton and wheat being largely kept back in the hope of higher prices, and there is a prevalent feeling that foreign imports will fall off.

The sales of wool, which to a large extent represents speculation and supplies for the future, rather than present consumption, have been at the three chief markets during the past four weeks, 24,295,050 pounds, against 16,129,100 last year, and 24,371,821 in 1893, and 21,457,900 in the same weeks of 1892.

The iron market is decidedly weaker again, and while Bessemer pig has declined to $12.85 at Pittsburgh and Grey forged to $12.25 and plates to $1.60 at Philadelphia, so that the average of all quotations is about half of 1 per cent lower than last week, the markets are really much weaker than the quotations, as concessions are generally given by manufacturers in order to secure business. A sharp decline is noted in bar wire, attributed to the failure of the Erie and expected consolidation.

At Iron ore prices and the coal associations are trying to reduce prices of their products, though it has surprisingly reduced since the great advance two or three months ago. The coke combination holds prices firmly, but it has been obliged to reduce its output to five days in the week, so that a decline of 10,350 tons for the week is recorded.

For the past week failures have been 270 in the United States against 289 last year, and 47 in Canada, against 36 last year.

TWO NEGROES LYNCHED.

Taken From a Train En Route to the Penitentiary In Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 30.—Joe Robinson and Ozias McGahey, both negroes, have been taken from the jail at Fayetteville by a mob composed of people from Lincoln and Marshall counties and hanged. The negroes had been taken from Nashville to Lewisburg, Marshall county, tried for attempted rape, convicted and sentenced to the full penalty of the law, and a train had been held to take them to Tracey City.

En route, at Fayetteville, in the adjoining county, sympathizers of the Marshall county mob, at the request of the mob, held up the train, forced a side tracking of the car containing the sheriff, guards and prisoners over the protest of leading citizens. The sheriff then placed the prisoners in jail, from which they were taken. Governor Turney received a telegram from the sheriff calling for troops. One hundred of the state guard were speedily sent, but arrived too late.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, NOV. 30.

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Of Ohio.

MR. CLEVELAND will tell congress all about it on Monday, and then congress will begin to show Mr. Cleveland how little he really does know.

W. S. ANDERSON, the noted criminal attorney of Youngstown, is announced as a candidate as delegate to the big Republican convention next year. That is an honor which should fall to East Liverpool.

THE Hon. Mr. Bland, who once had a seat in congress, was advertised to lecture on free silver in Savannah the other evening, but only one seat was sold and the thing was called off; and thus does the senseless advocacy of the silver standard wither and die.

SENATOR PFEFFER has never shown himself as owning a vast deal of common sense in the past, but he threatens to retrieve himself in a measure by introducing a bill in congress compelling the members who die while at Washington to pay their own funeral expenses.

THEY say that the leaders of the Republican party are for Reed but the masses of the people are for McKinley, which means that it would not be a wise thing for the convention to nominate Mr. Reed. A cardinal principle of Republicanism is that the people's voice should rule.

A NEW POLICY.

Those friends of President Cleveland who sympathize with his weak water policy of allowing the American flag to be treated worse than a housewife's dishrag by the nations of Europe, and can find no better consolation in life than styling patriots as jingoes, will soon be retired to private life, with their chief, and the stars and stripes will again be recognized as possessing a power of its own. The foreign policy of the administration has aroused a deep feeling of resentment toward President Cleveland, and since he can give no satisfactory explanation of his conduct, the nation will have nothing more to do with him. The republic once held a place among the nations of the earth, once commanded a respect which could not be gainsaid. To be an American in a foreign land was to be guarded and protected; but it is not so at present. Mr. Bayard has been kind enough to tell the people of England that we are a well meaning people, but rather simple, and Mr. Terrell is allowing the Turks to do as they please with Americans and American property, while he apparently pats them on the back. That Hawaiian incident has not yet faded from the memory of the world, and the manner in which England has been acting in the Venezuelan and Baring sea matters are fresh in memory. These things are not calculated to enforce American respect, nor will the millions of dollars vested in battleships ever bring any return until they are backed by a forcible foreign policy that will show the honesty, as well as the earnestness of Uncle Sam. If Mr. Cleveland's past is a criterion of the future, he is incapable of protecting Americans and American interests abroad.

The great majority of men and women, of even very much more than ordinary intelligence, pay no attention whatsoever to the well established rules governing the preservation of health. Simple symptoms of indigestion or slight disarrangements of the stomach or system are treated by them as trivial happenings, having no weight or bearing upon their general health. In this seeming neglect, or too much over confidence in their own robustness lies the greatest mistake of their lives, as it is invariably from these little ailments giant chronic diseases spring. To guard fully against such evils, use Libby's Phosphatic Beef, Iron and Wine; the only true tonic to the stomach system, system and nerves, perfect strength and tissue producer, and new rich blood matter. Go or send for it to Alvin H. Bulger, druggist, Sixth and West Market.

CONGRESS TOO STINGY

Lamont Tells Why Our Coasts Are Undefended.

70 YEARS TO COMPLETE THE WORK

Will Be Necessary If Appropriations Are Made In The Future as In The Past. 100,000 State Militia Available—Recommendations In His Report.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The secretary of war, in his annual report to the president, says the expenditures for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1895, were $52,987,780.44; appropriations for fiscal year ending June 30, 1896, $43,406,571.75; estimates for fiscal year ending June 30, 1897, $51,945,643.45. The year has been tranquil and undisturbed by Indian outbreaks, domestic violence or troubles on the border. The total of all enlisted men is 25,706.

A considerable reduction by congress of the estimates of the war department left the paymaster general without sufficient funds to meet the army payroll for the last month of the year. An unofficial arrangement was made under which the necessary amount was advanced to meet these accounts in full, the secretary of war having assumed the personal responsibility of guaranteeing their payment. A deficiency appropriation of $24,000, or so much as may be necessary, to extinguish the debt, is recommended.

The secretary says that by far the most essential need of our army today is the adoption of the three-battalion formation. The reasons for this change and a way to provide it were stated in the report of the department for 1894. As necessary to effect that change, he recommends the removal of the limit of 25,000 men fixed by the act of June 15, 1874, and a return to the limit fixed by the act of July 15, 1870. Legislative approval of these two propositions will restore to the effective force about 4,000 enlisted men, bringing the actual strength of the army up to the nominal strength now fixed by law. By these changes the army will be increased in efficiency 20 per cent, in numbers about 10 per cent, and in cost of maintenance only about 4 per cent, or an increase in annual appropriations of $1,000,000.

The policy of concentrating the army at a tabernacle unnecessary posts has not only won the approval of all those acquainted with the lines of progress which conditions have marked out for our army, but is approved by all thoughtful citizens. This policy has also rendered it possible for this department since March 4, 1893, to turn over to the department of the interior 741,000 acres of public land, conveniently situated, for the use of actual settlers.

The efforts of recent years to bring the army into closer relations with the national guard of the states may now be regarded as having established a permanent union between the two forces, and at present to both. During the year, officers, 6 more than in the previous year, were permanently detailed at state headquarters, and 43 states secured a temporary duty the services of army officers. State encampments of troops were held by 2 states, to which 25 additional officers were assigned as instructors and inspectors. The conditions are favorable to the development of a volunteer force of 100,000 men, of the highest efficiency and prepared for any service. The secretary says the militia should be supplied with modern arms and more money should be appropriated by the government. The secretary says the military schools are increasing the interest of the youth in military affairs and says army officers should be detailed to city high schools and state normal schools.

Secretary Lamont says that the inadequacy and impotency of sea-coast defenses have been so evident that the intelligence of the country long since ceased to discuss that humiliating phase of the subject, but has addressed itself to the more practical undertaking of urging more rapid progress in the execution of the plan originally devised by the Endicott board in 1886, with subsequent slight modifications. That plan contemplated a system of fortifications at 27 ports to which Paget Sound was subsequently added, requiring 577 guns and 824 mortars of modern construction, at a cost of $97,782,800, including $5,000,000 for floating batteries. By an immediate appropriation at that time of $21,500,000 and an annual appropriation of $1,000,000 thereafter, as then recommended, the system of land defenses could have been completed in 1895. The original plan contemplated an expenditure of $97,782,800 by the end of the present year. The actual expenditures and appropriations for armament and equipments have, however, been $10,631,000. The first appropriation for guns was made only seven years ago and the first appropriation for emplacements was made only five years ago. The average annual appropriations for these two objects has been less than $1,500,000. The work has therefore been conducted at about one-seventh the rate proposed.

If future appropriations for the manufacture of guns, mortars and carriages be no larger than the average authorized for the purpose since 1888, it will require 22 years more to supply the armament of the 18 important ports for which complete projects are approved.

If the appropriations for the engineering work are to continue at the rate of the annual appropriations since 1890, it will require 70 years to complete the emplacements and platforms for this armament for the ports referred to. We have established and equipped a gun factory able to turn out yearly 35 guns of the types required, or enough to arm the 18 ports enumerated within ten years. It is complete except as to the provisions for finishing and assembling 16-inch guns, the expediency of which is questioned. We have, moreover, a contract with a plan for the manufacture of guns, which in time will be able to meet any unusual demand that could not be supplied by the Watervliet gun factory. We have established a plant for the manufacture of gun carriages which, with the private establishments, can supply the carriages required as rapidly as emplacements for guns and mortars are completed. But at only three of the 18 ports under consideration have completed features been established. New York, San Francisco and Boston.

By about July next the condition of the completed components of our new defenses will be as follows: Guns, 29 12-inch, 45 10-inch and 10 12-inch; carriages, 10 12-inch, 31 10-inch, 14 8-inch; emplacements, 3 12-inch, 16 10-inch, 5 8-inch; mortars, 56 12-inch; carriages, 36 12-inch; emplacements, 64 12-inch.

It rests with congress to determine by its appropriations the period which shall elapse before our coasts shall be put in a satisfactory condition of defense. The amount required for the 18 ports is about $52,000,000, and the entire work can be completed within ten years. The rate of progress will be slower in proportion as appropriations are kept below the amount which can be advantageously expended.

It is important that congress should early adopt and consistently pursue a fixed policy in regard to the marking of the battlefields of the civil war. If the plan of creating battlefields parks is to be impartially pursued on the scale adopted at Chickamauga and Gettysburg, it must embrace 50 places where important actions were fought, and will involve an expenditure of at least $20,000,000, with additional expenditures for maintenance that may reach $1,000,000 yearly.

The report of chief engineers to the war department exhibits in detail the condition of the various river and harbor improvements ordered by congress. The total expenditures for these purposes during the year ended June 30 last, exclusive of those made by Mississippi and Missouri river commissions, were $15,440,994.97, and the unexpended balance of unavailable appropriations on the 1st day of September last was $12,686,880.59.

The secretary recommends a new building in which to keep the records of all the departments. He also recommends an appropriation for a statue to General Grant in Washington.

THE SITUATION DARK.

WARSHIPS PASS DARDANELLES.

He Is Badly Scared, but Under the Influence of Bad Advisers—Still Refuses the Powers' Demand—Tewfik Pasha Fired From the Palace.

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—The following reliable letter from an American resident in Constantinople says:

"The position here is critical in the extreme. The Turks are coming in from Asiatic Turkey, rushed with massacre and pillage, are telling of their deeds, and a lot of our bazars, with an accompanying slaughter, is possible at any moment.

"The sultan is fighting for his life, and is not yet convinced that he is going to be punished for his crimes. When the powers are ready to move on him he may order any act of massacre, in order to go on in a cloud of smoke and glory. The powers are acting in the greatest secrecy that he may not have time to do this. When the fleets are ready to come in, they will put them selves in communication with the sultan and demand the surrender of the sultan's person, and I think that the sultan will dethrone himself. But it will be an anxious time until this is accomplished."

A Constantinople dispatch says: The British ambassador has the gunboat Dryad at the entrance to the Dardanelles ready to pass in, but the sultan, who is once more thoroughly under the influence of the palace party led by Izzet Bey, still declines to grant the firmans applied for by the representatives of Great Britain, Russia, Italy and Austria, for the passage of the extra gunships through the straits of the Dardanelles.

This is the more extraordinary, as on Tuesday last Tewfik Pasha, the Turkish minister for foreign affairs, personally assured Sir Philip Currie that the porte had determined to grant immediately the permission required. The palace party has persuaded the sultan to go back on his word. This places Tewfik Pasha in an embarrassing position, and he has been driven from the palace by the angry sultan because he cannot persuade the powers to recall their request.

It is believed that the powers are preparing to escort the gunboats with battleships and they may bombard the Turkish forts.

When this occurs, it is believed that a massacre of Christians will follow on the part of the Mussulmans, who are being stirred up to this point by secret agents of the sultan.

FOURTEEN LIVES LOST.

A Slide Occurs In a Coal Pit In New York State.

CARMEI, N. Y., Nov. 30.—An accident, resulting in the loss of 13 or 14 lives, has occurred at the Tilly Foster mines. Foreman Patrick was descending into the pit to take the time of two gangs of laborers, numbering about 35 men, who were working at the bottom, when a vast weight of earth and rock slid with the force of an avalanche from the mouth of the pit to the bottom, a distance of 300 feet. The earth crashed over the men with tremendous force.

Out of one gang of 11 only five came out alive, and three of the men employed in another gang were taken out dead. Among those known to be dead are: Michael Gannon, foreman; Patrick H. Murtha, foreman; John Fagan, boarding house keeper; Thomas Dennis, James Smith, an Austrian, name unknown, known as No. 234.

An Austrian known as No. 394 received a fracture of the skull and will probably die. The names of the other killed are at present unknown. Several of the workmen were seriously injured. The work of rescue is going on. It is thought that all the others in the pit are Italians and Austrians.

Strange Reason For Suicide.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 30.—It has developed that Rufus Suits, whose dead body was found in his room in the Midland hotel, committed suicide rather than announce to the world as his lawful wife his former housekeeper, who it appears, he had secretly married. Judge Burke So Characterizes the Recent Suit Which He Won.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30.—Judge Stevenson Burke, who won the famous $800,000 Hocking Valley railroad suit in the New York court of appeals, in talking of the case, said:

"The outcome of that matter never troubled me for a moment. It was a blackmailing scheme. As late as last August I was approached with the proposition to consolidate the Toledo and Ohio Central railway, of which I am president, and the Hocking Valley railroad, I to be made president of the consolidated company. Would they have done that if they had had any confidence in their case? I declined. I believe that the Ohio case brought by the Central Trust company will be dismissed."

A SLAP AT SHERMAN.

Lynch Says His Advocates Only Used Money In The South.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 30.—Hon. John R. Lynch, the Mississippi colored ex-congressman, in conversation with a gentleman of Washington C. H. O., said in reference to Senator Sherman's book:

"The only money that I know of being used in the south to draw state delegations to the support of any candidate for the Republican presidential nomination was that which was used in the interest of John Sherman's candidacy. Although I got none of it myself I know of money having been used in that direction."

Brainiacs At Risk.

GREENVILLE, O., Nov. 30.—James Durant and John Bell, both colored, were in love with Susie Weaver, colored, about 14 miles west of here, just across the line in Indiana. Durant seemed to be Sadie's choice. Last night, after a dance, both were full of liquor. Bell accompanied Susie home. Later Durant appeared on the scene. A fight followed, but neither was hurt. Susie fled, leaving her lovers to settle their difficulty by themselves. Bell awoke first. Finding Durant still badly intoxicated, he picked up an iron bar and brained him. Bell was arrested.

Tom Johnson's Big Deal.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30.—It is stated that Hon. Tom L. Johnson is about to effect another big street railroad consolidation, and that on this occasion the scene of action will be laid in Brooklyn, where the ex-congressman controls the Nassau street lines. It is said that the Nassau road has secured a lease of the Brooklyn Traction company's lines, and that this deal is a forerunner of a complete consolidation of the Brooklyn lines into one system under the Johnson management, with $1,500,000 worth of stock.

Accused of Grave Robbery.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 30.—On Thanksgiving morning the sexton of Calvary cemetery discovered that the grave of Mrs. Mary Malloy, who was buried on Tuesday, had been robbed and the body taken. DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

Business Not Improved and Prices Shrink From a Period of Inaction.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—R. G. Dun & Co's Weekly Review of Trade, issued to-day, says: Business has not improved, though there is very little change, except in the shrinkage of prices, which a period of inaction naturally causes. After the extraordinary buying of the summer and early fall, a marked decrease was inevitable, and it is yet too early in most branches of business to judge how far the future was anticipated in purchases. Retail stocks are still reported full in nearly all branches, with delayed distribution in many on account of unfavorable weather. The movement of crops is only fair, but cotton and wheat being largely kept back in the hope of higher prices, and there is a prevalent feeling that foreign imports will fall off.

The sales of wool, which to a large extent represents speculation and supplies for the future, rather than present consumption, have been at the three chief markets during the past four weeks, 24,395,050 pounds, against 16,129,100 last year, and 24,371,821 in 1893, and 21,457,900 in the same weeks of 1892.

The iron market is decidedly weaker again, and while Bessemer pig has declined to $12.25 at Pittsburgh and Grey forge to $12.25 and plates to $11.00 at Philadelphia, so that the average of all quotations is about half of 1 per cent lower than last week, the markets are really much weaker than the quotations, as concessions are generally given by manufacturers in order to secure business. A sharp decline is noted in bar wire, attributed to the failure to complete an expected combination.

The Iron Association and the Coal and Oil Association are endeavoring to reduce prices of their products, though it has surprisingly reduced since the great advance two or three months ago. The coke combination holds prices firmly, but it has been obliged to reduce its output to five days in the week, so that a decline of 10,380 tons for the week is recorded.

For the past week failures have been 279 in the United States against 289 last year, and 47 in Canada, against 36 last year.

TWO NEGROES LYNCHED.

Taken From a Train En Route to the Penitentiary In Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Nov. 30.—Joe Robinson and Ozias McGahey, both negroes, have been taken from the jail at Fayetteville by a mob composed of people from Lincoln and Marshall counties and hanged. The negroes had been taken from Nashville to Lewisburg, Marshall county, tried for attempted rape, convicted and sentenced to the full penalty of the law, and a train had been held to take them to Tracey City.

En route, at Fayetteville, in the adjoining county, sympathizers of the mob, held up the train, forced a side-tracking of the car containing the sheriff, guards and prisoners over the protest of leading citizens. The sheriff then placed the prisoners in jail, from which they were taken. Governor Turney received a telegram from the sheriff calling for troops. One hundred of the state guard were speedily sent, but arrived too late.

McDOWELL WILL WIN.

His Opponents Admit He Will Be the House Clerk.

REED'S COMMITTEES MADE UP.

Dalzell Will Not Get the Ways and Means Chairmanship—Grosvenor Will Head the Rivers and Harbors Committee—Ohio Man For House Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—There is a growing probability that the Republicans at their caucus on next Monday will decide to attempt to reorganize the senate on Republican lines, and that a candidate for president pro tem. will then be decided upon. So far, Senator Frye's name is the only one heard in connection with the office of president pro tem.

Ohio and Indiana having declared for McDowell and Glenn for clerk and doorkeeper, respectively, of the house, there is now practically no doubt of the election of ex-Representative McDowell as clerk, although General Henderson of Illinois says he is still in the race. Mr. McDowell's friends are claiming that he has 180 votes, and while General Henderson's supporters do not concede so many, the majority of them admit the strong probability of the election of the Pennsylvania man by a considerable majority.

The present slate of the elective offices of the house reads: Alexander McDowell of Pennsylvania, clerk; Benjamin F. Russell of Missouri, sergeant-at-arms; W. J. Glenn of New York, doorkeeper; J. C. McElroy of Ohio, postmaster; the Rev. Mr. Fisher of Kansas, chaplain.

Ex-Speaker Crisp has arrived and the house Democratic caucus will be held late this afternoon. The caucus probably will be very brief, as no attempt will be made to outline a policy for the coming session. The line of tactics to be pursued by the Democrats will depend upon the developments of the majority. The caucus will select minority candidates for the house offices, undoubtedly renominating the officers of the Fifty-third house.

Ex-Speaker Reed, the coming speaker, has about made up his committee. From the best information obtainable, it seems likely that the ways and means committee; Mr. Hitt of Illinois, foreign affairs; Henderson of Iowa, appropriations; Grosvenor of Ohio, rivers and harbors; Walker of Massachusetts, banking and currency; and Hepburn of Iowa, interstate commerce. Mr. Dingley of Maine, who was talked of in connection with the chairmanship of the ways and means, in order not to embarrass Mr. Reed, consented to having the chairmanship go to Mr. Payne. He will, however, be a member of the ways and means committee and will be given second place on banking and currency. Mr. Dalzell of Pennsylvania, another aspirant for the chairmanship of ways and means, will remain on that committee and will also be given a place on foreign affairs.

PRESIDENT-MAKING.

Next Congress Will Be Busy At It and Nothing Else, Says Palmer.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—"The Democratic party has done many foolish things no doubt, but in heaven's name let us not violate our most sacred tradition by nominating Cleveland for a third term," so said Senator John M. Palmer of Illinois. Then he added:

"I don't think he would or not, we should not think of nominating him again. I am a supporter of Cleveland, but not for a third term—either Cleveland or anybody else. Let us have a western man next time—Morrison if he wants it, Carlisle if he will take it.

"Legislation this session? There will be none to speak of, either from currency or to make up the deficiency. We will be in session about eight months president-making. I would not be surprised if the session were to bring out some presidential timber on both sides thus far unknown."

To Prevent a Gas Consolidation.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Notice has been served upon the Central Trust company of this city, counsel of a Connecticut bondholder of the Chicago gas companies, to show cause on Dec. 11 before the attorney general of New York why suit should not be brought against that institution to prevent the attempted consolidation of the Chicago gas properties.

Making Whisky Out of Beets.

OMAHA, Nov. 30.—The vast yield of sugar beets in Nebraska and the inability of farmers to dispose of it rapidly has provoked peculiar violations of the revenue laws. A still has been captured in Sherman county, from which whisky was being made from the beets. It was owned by Charles Reidill, a farmer.

Two Tragedies In One Family.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Nov. 30.—Deputy Postmaster Ben Ayes has shot Frank Howard, a colored boy, and almost immediately afterward the boy's mother was shot and killed by Ike Buttrely, her husband, who thought she was a burglar. Ayes had arrested the boy for some trivial offense and he tried to escape.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Mrs. Mary Layton has moved from the city to East Liberty, Pa.

At their next meeting the clerks will elect officers for the year.

The Rechabites will enjoy themselves at their rooms this evening.

James L. Clark has moved his family and household effects to this city from some point east of Pittsburgh.

The job rooms of the NEWS REVIEW are rushed with work, and the best to be obtained in the market is being turned out.

G. D. Curtis, assistant superintendent of the Adams Express company, was in town yesterday, the guest of Agent Brock.

It is whispered around that the street sweeper would make a vast improvement in the appearance of the city if it was used oftener.

J. A. Thomas, of Augusta, was in town yesterday buying ware. The gentleman is a crockery dealer and spoke very highly of the ware made here.

Postmaster Miskall today began sending a mail pouch on the 4:20 train east. Mail for all points east of Rochester will make from two to four hours time.

Doctor Lee, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has moved from Sixth street to the house at the corner of West Market and Grant streets, that was formerly occupied by M. Simms.

John W. Sellers, of Lucy Webb Hayes council, Daughters of Liberty, has been appointed district deputy for this section. He has received his credentials and will assume the duties of his office at once.

President Hughes, of the Brotherhood, went to Steubenville this morning on business, but before going said there was no particular happening among the potters of that place to demand his presence.

The boating stage has brought some traders to the city. They have had a hard time of it during the summer, having been tied up at a town where they could not successfully carry on their business all of the time.

Calcutta road residents have another objection and this time the complaint is general. They say that the dirt taken off the Gaston hill is dumped over the bank and falls into the yards of people living in the hollow.

The markets are commencing to fill with rabbits, they being unusually plentiful this year. George Raugh succeeded in capturing 28 the other day near Salineville, and Thomas Smith bagged 15 near Cumberland yesterday.

An old brick yard in the upper part of the city is fast becoming the resting place of tramps and drunks, many such disreputable characters having been seen about the place. Young girls have been chased and frightened a number of times while in that vicinity.

Football men were laughing at a local paper last evening because of a ridiculous break it made in reporting the game. Taylor is credited with making a clear gain of 40 yards, and the boys were wondering why the umpire and the crowd did not see that they were credited.

The sewer that carries the water of Tanyard run across Minerva street is commencing to give way because of the weight of the vast amount of earth it is compelled to bear. The pipe at each side of the street is crushed and broken, and it is feared the sewer will collapse.

Traveling salesmen who have been coming to the city in droves for several months are commencing to appreciate the near approach of the holidays, and are going home. The hotels feel the movement in a decreased trade, and the amount of baggage handled at the station has fallen off wonderfully the past few weeks.

Work on the new directory is being pushed with vigor, and it will be ready for delivery as soon after the enumerators finish their work as possible. It has been decided to make it a directory for this city, Wellsville, Salem, Lisbon, Leontina, Palestine and Columbiana, but there will be no farmers names in the book unless they reside in town.

A small boy at the Young Men's Christian association gymnasium had a hard fall the other evening, and seemed to be hurt about the shoulders. Rising slowly from the floor he addressed his companions with, "my neck ain't broken, is it? Wouldn't my head fall off if it was?" The boys had to tell him again and again that it was not necessary for him to hold his neck.

There is a scarcity of houses in the city, and instances of where people were looking longingly for a roof to cover them but were unable to find a house are heard. The household effects of two families were at the freight depot yesterday while the people looked for empty houses they could not find. The population of the city at present is probably greater than at any time in its history.

CONSIDERING CHARGES

Citizens' Committee and Police Committee to Talk.

OFFICER WHAN TO BE DISCUSSED

The Meeting Will Be Conducted at City Hall and the Public Will Not Be Admitted—A Session of the Citizens' Committee at an Earlier Hour.

The charges of Detective Huckle and his wife against Officer Whan will be discussed by police committee of council and the citizens committee at city hall this evening.

It will be remembered that the charges were presented at the last meeting of council, and by that body referred to police committee. As the charges were not in the legal form desired by council the committee decided to meet with a committee from the organization of ministers and citizens who have the matter in hand, and that is the session that will be held this evening. Before the law and order society send their representatives to city hall they will be selected at a meeting to be held in the Young Men's Christian association rooms at 7 o'clock. The object of the meeting is not made public, but it is thought to have some bearing upon the more important gathering at city hall. What will be done at the meeting is all under the hat today for members of police committee are not talking any more than are the leaders of the league.

YE OLD TIMERS.

East Liverpool Will Listen to Ye Old Time Warblers.

On Tuesday night, Dec. 10, at ye Grand Opera House, East Liverpool, in ye year of our Lord, 1895, ye old timers will assemble and will sing ye songs of ye olden time. Ye birds of ye forest cannot excel these melody producers. Ye colored citizens will participate in ye mode of making mirth, in order that ye may smile in ye most innocent manner. Ye solos, ye duets, ye orchestras shall bring forth melodious minstrelsy, while ye merry maidens shall speak pieces best suited to ye fancy.

Ye men and maidens all, wise and simple, great and small, can come unto ye merry place, and smile and laugh in best of grace. There shall be no penalty attached to laughter on ye glorious occasion. Ye can read advertisement in these columns today. The price of ye plain tickets is but 25 cents, while 10 centimes will be added for more favorable locations in ye opera house. Ye can make ye selections at any time. Remember "Ye Old Fashioned Singing School," at ye Grand Opera House, ye 10th of December, which is Tuesday, ye year of ye Lord, 1895. All peoples have an invitation.

The Educational Bureau closed its series last night with a lecture by Hon. Samuel Phelps Leland on "World Making" that was, taking it all in all, the best of the course. It combined both entertainment and instruction. It clothed the dry facts of science in such simple yet beautiful language that a school boy could not fail to understand. It was indeed a most masterly and eloquent effort, and a rare intellectual treat.—Delaware (O.) Gazette.

Grand Opera House, Dec. 6.

Best of the Season.

The musicale to be given at the Grand Op Tuesday evening by Mrs. Charles Griffith-Dix, assisted by Mrs. Edith D. Fry, Prof. Edward C. Melvin and Prof. Herman Melzer, will undoubtedly be among the chief events of the season. Mrs. Dix as pianist is far too well known in the city to need one word more of praise than she has already received, and the fact that many Wellsville people will attend the concert because they once heard Mrs. Fry sing in their town is proof that she is appreciated. Professor Melvin, the violinist, is an artist and Professor Melzer stands in the first rank in Pittsburgh.

W. A. McGuire, a well known citizen of McKay, O., is of the opinion that there is nothing as good for children troubled with colds or croup as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He has used it in his family for several years with the best results and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. After having a gripple he was himself troubled with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine and to his delight it soon effected a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. The most delightful lecture of the Young Men's Christian Association Course, and one of the very best ever given in Bridgeport, was delivered by Dr. Samuel Phelps Leland. The audience, as usual in the course, was a large one, and was entertained by the lecturer in a manner which called forth the most hearty appreciation. Doctor Leland's style of oratory is rapid in the extreme, his enunciation perfect and his oratorical effects striking and pleasing.—Bridgeport (N. J.) Daily Pioneer.

Grand Opera House, Dec. 6.

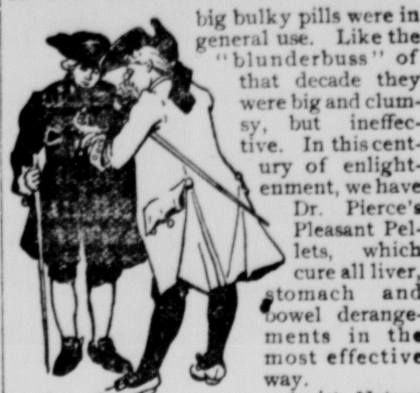

Lost Paradise.

There will be a genuine treat at the Grand Opera House on Dec. 13, when Will Morris appears in "Lost Paradise." Play goes will remember it as being here last season, when the audience was thoroughly delighted. It absolutely teems with pointers which win their way straight to the hearts of those who appreciate a good thing. "Tis under the management of Gustave Frohman.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Weishton, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhoea of long standing in six hours, with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon. When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

In Our Great Grandfather's Time,

big bulky pills were in general use. Like the "blunderbuss" of that decade they were big and clumsy, but ineffective. In this century of enlightenment, we have Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which cure all liver, stomach and bowel derangements in the most effective way.

Assist Nature a little now and then, with a gentle, cleansing laxative, thereby removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels, toning up and invigorating the liver and quickening its tardy action, and you thereby remove the cause of a multitude of distressing diseases, such as headaches, indigestion, or dyspepsia, biliousness, pimples, blotches, eruptions, boils, constipation, piles, fistulas and maladies too numerous to mention.

If people would pay more attention to properly regulating the action of their bowels, they would have less frequent occasion to call for their doctor's services to subdue attacks of dangerous diseases.

That, of all known agents to accomplish this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are unequaled, is proven by the fact that once used, they are always in favor. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. Hence, their great popularity, with sufferers from habitual constipation, piles and indigestion.

A free sample of the "Pellets," (4 to 7 doses) on trial, is mailed to any address, post-paid, on receipt of name and address on postal card.

KENTUCKY HUMOR.

Some Anecdotes of Humphrey Marshall, Soldier and Congressman.

Edward J. McDermott, in an article entitled "Fun on the Stump" in The Century, relates the following:

Just before the war Humphrey Marshall was a great debater in congress. During the war he was a Confederate general. He was very large and stout—a veritable Falstaff. At the breaking out of the war he wrote to an officer of the north and warned him not to invade the sacred soil of Kentucky, for if he did he would have to pass over the dead body of Humphrey Marshall. The northern officer replied: "Dear general, we won't pass over your dead body. We prefer to tunnel through."

After the war the general had a good practice, but he was extravagant and often in need of money. Once he was dogged by a collector who had been put off dozens of times. At last the collector said: "General, you have said to me time after time: 'I cannot pay you this week. Come next.' Now, I can't afford to be coming here all the time. You must fix the day. When will you be able to pay me?" "D—n it, sir," said the general, "do you think I am a prophet?"

When the general was running for congress against Mr. Blank, after the war, he tried to draw out Mr. Blank's exact opinions by a close debate on the stump. In such an intellectual conflict few men could compete with Humphrey Marshall. Mr. Blank parried and fenced as well as he could. Finally Marshall said one evening in his ponderous tones and impressive manner:

"Fellow citizens, I have tried to pin Mr. Blank down and make him give me a fair statement of his opinions and principles, but he fits about so nimbly that it is impossible to follow him in an argument. In dodging a debate he reminds me of a bobolink flitting along a zigzag worm fence, hopping or flying, not on one side of the fence and then on the other, until the mind is bewildered, and it is impossible to tell on which side he is at any moment."

The Last Straw.

Henry Van Meter, who died in Bangor about 25 years ago at the advanced age of 110, was a genuine old Virginia dandy who drifted down east in some mysterious way in the early part of this century.

He imagined himself charged with inspiration from various spirits and was in reality unbalanced in his mind for the greater part of the time, on account of the superstitious beliefs which possessed him.

At one time he was summoned to court as witness in a certain case, and the counsel on each side badgered him with questions until his wits became so entangled that his answers grew quite wild and preposterous. Noticing the distress and confusion of the poor old witness, the judge, who was a most kind hearted man, hushed the lawyers and put a simple question to the bewildered dandy, with the intention of bringing him back to the starting point.

This third assault, for so Van Meter regarded the kindly judge's interposition, proved the last straw to the old dandy.

"Now, look a-beeh, yo' ole gray haired gemman up on de bench dar," he broke out, shaking a trembling forefinger at the judge, "don' yo' interfere wid dis yer bus'ness at all. Dis chile's got jess as much as he can do to take care of dese two fellers down heah, an dat's de truf!"—Youth's Companion.

A Dog In a Crowd.

It is really cruel to take a dog, and particularly a small one, into a crowd. No one possessing any imagination would ever do it. Can you fancy what the feelings of a little animal must be when it finds itself in a perfect forest of legs, each leg provided with a foot shod in hard leather and liable to come down on one of its poor little paws? Its small brain must be in a ferment of apprehension all the time, and if it could command any language it would probably be of a powerful kind.—Philadelphia Ledger.

How They Eat.

The following is the daily ration of the animals at the Jardin des Plantes in Paris: Ten pounds of flesh for each lion, tiger and bear; seven pounds for the panther, three pounds to six pounds for the hyena, one pound for the wild cat, and two pounds for the eagle.

There is a "rocking stone" in Sullivan county, N. Y., which is estimated to weigh 40 tons, and which is so evenly balanced that the strength of one finger is sufficient to set it in motion.

The British Medical Journal states that the strain of railway racing must tell upon the drivers, and either they must work shorter hours or that greater risk must be run.

CONSIDERING CHARGES

Citizens' Committee and Police Committee to Talk.

OFFICER WHAN TO BE DISCUSSED

The Meeting Will Be Conducted at City Hall and the Public Will Not Be Admitted—A Session of the Citizens' Committee at an Earlier Hour.

The charges of Detective Huckle and his wife against Officer Whan will be discussed by police committee of council and the citizens committee at city hall this evening.

It will be remembered that the charges were presented at the last meeting of council, and by that body referred to police committee. As the charges were not in the legal form desired by council the committee decided to meet with a committee from the organization of ministers and citizens who have the matter in hand, and that is the session that will be held this evening. Before the law and order society send their representatives to city hall they will be selected at a meeting to be held in the Young Men's Christian association rooms at 7 o'clock. The object of the meeting is not made public, but it is thought to have some bearing upon the more important gathering at city hall. What will be done at the meeting is all under the hat today for members of police committee are not talking any more than are the leaders of the league.

YE OLD TIMERS.

East Liverpool Will Listen to Ye Old Time Warblers.

On Tuesday night, Dec. 10, at ye Grand Opera House, East Liverpool, in ye year of our Lord, 1895, ye old timers will assemble and will sing ye songs of ye olden time. Ye birds of ye forest cannot excel these melody producers. Ye colored citizens will participate in ye mode of making mirth, in order that ye may smile in ye most innocent manner. Ye solos, ye duets, ye orchestras shall bring forth melodious minstrelsy, while ye merry maidens shall speak pieces best suited to ye fancy.

Ye men and maidens all, wise and simple, great and small, can come unto ye merry place, and smile and laugh in best of grace. There shall be no penalty attached to laughter on ye glorious occasion. Ye can read advertisement in these columns today. The price of ye plain tickets is but 25 cents, while 10 cents will be added for more favorable locations in ye opera house. Ye can make ye selections at any time. Remember "Ye Old Fashioned Singing School," at ye Grand Opera House, ye 10th of December, which is Tuesday, ye year of ye Lord, 1895. All peoples have an invitation.

The Educational Bureau closed its series last night with a lecture by Hon. Samuel Phelps Leland on "World Making" that was, taking it all in all, the best of the course. It combined both entertainment and instruction. It clothed the dry facts of science in such simple yet beautiful language that a school boy could not fail to understand. It was indeed a most masterly and eloquent effort, and a rare intellectual treat.—Delaware (O.) Gazette.

Best of the Season.

The musicale to be given at the Grand on Tuesday evening by Mrs. Charles Griffith-Dix, assisted by Mrs. Edith D. Fry, Prof. Edward C. Melvin and Prof. Herman Melzer, will undoubtedly be among the chief events of the season. Mrs. Dix as pianist is far too well known in the city to need one word more of praise than she has already received, and the fact that many Wellsville people will attend the concert because they once heard Mrs. Fry sing in their town is proof that she is appreciated. Professor Melvin, the violinist, is an artist and Professor Melzer stands in the first rank in Pittsburg.

W. A. McGuire, a well known citizen of McKay, O., is of the opinion that there is nothing as good for children troubled with colds or croup as Chamberlain's Cough remedy. He has used it in his family for several years with the best results and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. After having la grippe he was himself troubled with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine and to his delight it soon effected a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

The audience, as usual in the course, was a large one, and was entertained by the lecturer in a manner which called forth the most hearty appreciation. Doctor Leland's style of oratory is rapid in the extreme, his enunciation perfect and his oratorical effects striking and pleasing.—Bridgeport (N. J.) Daily Pioneer.

Lost Paradise.

There will be a genuine treat at the Grand Opera House on Dec. 13, when Will Morris appears in "Lost Paradise." Playgoers will remember it as being here last season, when the audience was thoroughly delighted. It absolutely teems with pointers which win their way straight to the hearts of those who appreciate a good thing. 'Tis under the management of Gustave Frohman.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Welston, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhoea of long standing in six hours, with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon. When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

In Our Great Grandfather's Time,

a little now and then, with a gentle, cleansing laxative, thereby removing offending matter from the stomach and bowels, toning up and invigorating the liver and quickening its tardy action, and you thereby remove the cause of a multitude of distressing diseases, such as headaches, indigestion, or dyspepsia, biliousness, pimples, blotches, eruptions, boils, constipation, piles, fistulas and maladies too numerous to mention.

If people would pay more attention to properly regulating the action of their bowels, they would have less frequent occasion to call for their doctor's services to subdue attacks of dangerous diseases.

That, of all known agents to accomplish this purpose, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are unequalled, is proven by the fact that once used, they are always in favor. Their secondary effect is to keep the bowels open and regular, not to further constipate, as is the case with other pills. Hence, their great popularity, with sufferers from habitual constipation, piles and indigestion.

A free sample of the "Pellets," (4 to 7 doses) on trial, is mailed to any address, post-paid, on receipt of name and address on postal card.
